Some New Geography.

"Of what is the surface of the earth composed?"

"Of corner lots, mighty poor roads, railroad tracks, base ball grounds, cricket fields, and skating rinks."

"What portion of the globe is water?"

"About three-fourths. Sometimes they add a little gin and nutmeg to it."

"What is a town?"

"A town is a considerable collection of houses and inhabitants, with four or five men who 'run the party' and lend money at fifteen per cent interest."

"What is a city?"

"A city is an incorporated town, with a Mayor who believes that the whole world shakes when he happens to fall flat on a cross-walk."

"What is commerce?"

"Borrowing $5 for a day or two and dodging the lender for a year or two."

"Name the different races."

"Horse race, boat race, bicycle race and racing around to find a man to indorse your note."

"Into how many classes is mankind divided?"

"Six: being enlightened, civilized, half civilized, savage, too utter, not-worth-a-cent and Indian agents."

"What nations are called enlightened?"

"Those which have had the most wars, the worst laws and produced the worst criminals."

"How many motions has the earth?"

"That's according to how you mix you drinks and which way you go home."

"What is the earth's axis?"

"The line passing between New York and Chicago."

"What causes day and night?"

"Day is caused by night getting tired out. Night is caused by everybody taking the street car and going home to supper."

"What is a map?"

"A map is a drawing to show the jury where Smith stood when Jones gave him a lift under the eye."

"What is a mariner's compass?"

"A jug holding four gallons."

The Latest Bernhardt Gossip.

Sara Bernhardt is once more getting herself talked about. It appears that she wishes her husband to have a role in the new comedy which Sardou is now writing with a view to her appearance at the Vaudeville next summer at the rate of $200 a night and $100 for each rehearsal. Sardou, however, does not seem inclined to utilize the talents of M. Damalas. In short, there may arise an incident.

During her recent visit to Barcelona, Sara submitted her head to the examination of a local phrenologist of repute. The man of science, after a long and careful scrutiny, declared that the conformation of the great actress' head was rather that of a man's than of a woman's. He is going to write a pamphlet on the subject.

Finally, Sara Bernhardt has applied to the Prefecture of the Seine for permission to erect scaffolding in the Rue Fortuny. She is going to enlarge her mansion. It appears that she is jealous of Judie, who has just bought land near the Rue Clichy, on which she and Monsieur Judie intend to erect a palace.

One of the passengers on board an ill fated vessel at the time of the wreck was an exceedingly nervous man. Finding himself floating in the water, he imagined what his friends would do to acquaint his wife with his fate. Saved at last, he rushed to the telegraph office and sent this message:—"Dear P., I am saved. Break it gently to my wife!"
